DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

3. The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

4. Claims 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Tai et al., U.S. Patent 6,612,535 B1.

5. Tai teaches a semiconductor process as claimed. See FIGS. 1-8B, where Tai teaches the claimed invention.

Art Unit: 2823

6. Pertaining to claim 1, Tai teaches a method of fabricating a membrane structure for micro-machined devices, the method comprising:

providing a substrate 300; forming a microstructure on a back side of the substrate (the microstructure in this case is the cavity 308);

depositing a precursor solution 314 on a front side of the substrate after forming the microstructure while rotating (column 4, lines 36-46) the substrate to form a thin film layer thereon.

Objections

7. Claims 2-16 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
